V ENGINEER'S REPORT

Park Street Tank Project:

- Johnston Construction improved the closing of the ground-level personnel door and Joe said it is satisfactory now.
- Justin Bender, the V.P. of Johnston Construction's concrete division, looked at the slab floor's cracking with Joe, and Justin feels confident the cracks shouldn't get any worse. But the floor should be monitored further leading up to the one-year anniversary of the substantial completion date in May.

Denton Tank Project:

- Johnston Construction is back working on Denton's center leg.
- There has been no pay request from Pittsburg Tank for this month.
- I had previously reported a price from Pittsburg Tank of $10,000 to remove all the insulation and heat tracing from the existing riser pipe and inspect the condition of the pipe. Price does not include disposal of the removed material.
